The Movement of Gov. Lane in New Merico. TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Your Washington correspondence states that Governor Lane intended to seize a portion of the Mexican territory. A little explanation will probably diminish the heniousness of this act, and show that the territory in question be-lower to the United States. longs to the United States.

the Rio Grande, about forty miles north of El Paso, and some ten or twelve miles south of Dona Ana. It was ettled soon after the war in one of the most fertile por-tions of the valley of the Rio Grande. In the latter part of the year 1850 it numbered already 3,000 inhabitants, and produced, the following season, 50,000 bushels of

This town had never been under the jurisdiction of the State of Chihuahua, but, like the town of Las Cruzas, on the eastern side of the Rio Grande, and nearly oppo to it, was governed by an Alcalde, and then by the Chief ascalde at Dona Ana, under the system of government established by General Kearney when he took posses of New Mexico, and known as the "Kearney Code."

for their goods in Mesilla, and no duty was ever exacted. But in April, 1851, it was discovered that the latitude of Sat in April, 1851, it was discovered that the latitude of $2 deg. 22 min., fixed upon by the Mexican Commission and the American Commissioner, as the southern boun-dary of New Mexico, intersected the Rio Grande a short distance north of Mesilla, and consequently left this flourishing town in Mexico. Immediately upon this fact being determined, although the town of El Paso, or State of Chibuahus, had never exercised the slightest arisdiction over Mesilla, the Prefect of El Paso at once sent an Alcade to govern the town, the administrator feustom house officer) sent a deputy to enforce the col-lection of duties on goods from the United States, and the priest of El Paso sent a padre to confess the inhabit-ants. Thenceforth it was considered as a Mexican town, and its prosperity diminished. One of the judges of New Mexico (Baird, I think) wrote to the American Commission to know whether the line fixed was to be considered a settled matter, and if not settled, expressing his de-termination to enforce the authority of the United States ever the town of Mesilla. Not receiving a satisfactory reply, he deferred his purpose.

Now, Governor Lane undoubtedly takes the following view of the matter: that the line fixed by the Commission-rs requires the ratification of the Surveyor on the part of the United States to conform with the terms of the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, which says that "the result agreed upon by them (the Commissioners and Surveyors of the two governments) shall be deemed a part of this treaty." But the Surveyor on the part of the United States protested sgainst the line, and not being ratified by him, Governor Lane does not consider it valid. Obliged for the time then to put his own construction upon the treaty, he would place the boundary, as the Senate of the United States have designated it should be, eight miles north of El Paso. Mesilla then would remain as it was, in New Mexico, and Governor Lane merely takes possession of and exercises jurisdiction over American and not Mexican territory, as stated.

This act of his may bring about a crisis which will settle this question of boundary.

Oh, once I was "some," and my hats came from Knox's,
No dandy like me in the Opera boxes;
My dress was "distingue," but, sh, what a pride
I took in my hat—more than all else beside:
So tasteful its contour, so brilliant its hue,
So well it became me, all glossy and new:
But now, for the wast of four dollars to spend.
I must wear shabby hate from beginning to end.

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstring and relaxed organization is at once re-braced, reviving, and relaxed organization is at once re-braced, reviving, and relaxed organization is at once re-braced, reviving, and relaxed organization and physical symptoms of nervous disease vanish together under its influence. The excepting, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man. He stands erect, he moves with a firm step, his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom, of an almost idiotic spathy, becomes bright, buoyant and active, and he goes forth refreshed, regenerated, and conscitue of new vigor, to his accustomed occupations. Nor is the effect temporary. On the contrary, the relief is permanent, for the cordial properties of the medicine reach the constitution itself, and restore it to its normal condition. C. H. RING, general agent for the United States, 193 Broadway. Sold by druggists generally throughout the United States. It is put up in pint bottles, with the words "Dr. Morse's Invigorating Cordial" blown in the glass. Price 33 per bottle; two bottles, 35; five bottles for $12; and $24 per dotte.
